

MAYSVILLE MAY BE DISTRICT HEADQUARTERS HEALTH WORK

Maysville Likely To Be Chosen as Sub-Unit for U. S. Public Health Work in Kentucky. Twelve To Be Selected.

Removal by April 15 of State headquarters of the United States Public Health Service from Lexington to Louisville and the establishment of twelve district units to be opened at an early date in various parts of the state, was announced Tuesday by Major Lon B. Moreman, state supervisor of the U. S. Public Health Service, headquarters of which have been maintained in the government building at Lexington for the past several months.

Although some of the personnel of the Lexington office will be transferred to Louisville, the working status of the office will not be changed and it is expected that the Lexington unit will be maintained as the largest in the state outside the headquarters of the office, Major Moreman said.

The locations of the twelve branch units have been selected by the state supervisor, but have not been approved by the surgeon general's office at Washington, and will not be made public until this approval is received it was said.

It has been understood for some time that in the event this system was approved one of the twelve sub-units will be located in Maysville.

Each of the twelve sub-units will be equipped with X-rays and modern medical appliances for conducting examinations and giving treatments and will be in charge of a public health officer, assisted by a clerical force, Major Moreman said.

FALL IS FATAL TO RAILROAD EMPLOYEE

Young Man Falls From Water Tank at C. & O. Station at Concord and Is Killed Instantly.

Michael Kunchella, expert riveter in the employ of the C. & O. railroad company, was killed instantly at the C. & O. station at Concord, Lewis county, Tuesday when he fell from a scaffold a distance of about 80 feet to the ground below. He was dead when those who saw the fall reached his body.

Kunchella, who is but 19 years of age, was working with Edward Muse on a new water tank being erected at this point when the scaffold in some manner turned. Muse was quick enough to catch a beam and swing until assistance came to him but Kunchella who held a large riveting machine in his hand was thrown the distance of approximately eighty feet to the ground.

It is supposed that the rebound of the riveting machine caused the scaffold to slip.

The young man's home is at Beaverdale, Pa., and he was considered an expert at rivet driving.

BRITISH TROOPS ON A WAR BASIS AS STRIKE RESULT

London Becomes Armed Camp Over Night as Strike Situation Becomes More Serious.

London, April 6. — Great Britain went on a war basis today to fight industrial revolution growing out of the coal strike.

Railway men and transport workers, the latter pledged to help the coal men, were to decide on united action to win a victory for the miners.

Aristocrats in the most exclusive sections of London awoke today to the bugle's reveille. During the night large bodies of troops moved into parks prepared to mount guard over good Norees.

Kensington Gardens became an armed camp over night, three thousand guardsmen pitched their tents on the sward and threw out their guard lines. The gardens later will become a great food storehouse.

Hyde Park will become a camp today. The streets were filled with troops on the march and with individual soldiers preparing to join their outfits.

There was much mystery regarding the troop movements. Appearance of whole companies at railway stations led to belief that great numbers already have been dispatched to danger points in the mining district and industrial centers.

Thus far neither sailors nor soldiers have been asked to take over the work of the strikers.

IMPORTANT BANK TEST CASE TRIED TUESDAY

Case Involving the Fortunes of Many In Brown County and Western Mason County Set for Tuesday.

The Ripley Bee says:

The case of Chambers Baird, as Receiver of The Peoples Building and Loan Company of Ripley against W. A. Williamson, Ida Williamson, his wife, and The Citizens National Bank of Ripley, has been assigned for hearing in the Court of Common Pleas at Georgetown, on Tuesday, April 12th, and will be heard by Judge Frank M. Clevenger, of Wilmington, on that day. This is one of the cases, involving not only the right to credits for payments or shares of stock, etc., claimed by the defendant Williamson, by reason of payments made by him to L. V. Williams, Secretary of the company, but the validity of the alleged assignment of a mortgage, given to secure the payment of the note, to the Citizens National Bank of Ripley. Several other mortgages given by borrowers to the Loan Company were likewise assigned to the bank and it is expected that the determination of the Williamson case will be decisive in all similar cases.

Judge Tarbell has requested that notice of the assignment of the Williamson case for trial be given as much publicity as possible in order that all persons affected by the assignment of these mortgages, or in any way interested in the affairs of the Building and Loan Company, may be present, if they so desire, at this hearing.

MINSTRELS PLEASE ON SECOND NIGHT.

The Red Men's minstrels were repeated last night at the Washington Opera House and again pleased those who attended. This show was a really worth while affair. The entertainment was far above the average home talent and the men who worked so hard to make it a success at least have the assurance that their efforts were not in vain. The show should have had much better support. The Red Men will this evening entertain those who made the show at Red Men's hall.

MAYSVILLE MEN IN LIQUOR CASES ENTER PLEAS OF GUILTY

Fines Are Assessed Against Local Men Who Enter Pleas of Guilty in Federal Court—Weitkamp Pleads Guilty.

The present session of the United States District Court in Covington will be devoted to hearing only criminal cases, according to the announcement yesterday of Judge Cochran. He said no civil cases will be heard during the term, and informed the jury men, mostly farmers, that the court will make an effort to dismiss them on Saturday so they can return to farm work.

A plea of guilty was entered by Harry E. Weitkamp, former Assistant Postmaster in Newport, to an indictment charging him with converting to his own use $7,976.97 of the funds of the postoffice. Weitkamp was represented by Attorney W. A. Burkamp, who said that his client has returned the money to the fund. Weitkamp gave bond for his appearance for sentence at the end of this term of court.

In the Maysville liquor cases indictments were returned and pleas entered as follows:

George M. Diener, possession of liquor, guilty, $100 fine.

W. H. Farwick, possession, guilty, $100 fine.

BOOZE BANDITS POSE AS OFFICERS; ARE FOILED

Former Maysville Man Has Experience With Bandits at Newport.

Two whisky bandits, who attempted robbery at the home of Charles P. Watson, 55, retired riverman, of Newport, former Maysvillian, were forced to beat a hasty retreat Tuesday night. They posed as prohibition officers and went to the Watson home in a large touring car bearing an Ohio license. The men commanded Watson "to get what whisky he had stored in his house."

Watson requested the men to show their credentials, and when they refused he made an effort to telephone to the police. One of the men brandished a revolver and the other bandit walked toward the cellar-door. Watson shouted: "Stop! I'll not permit my house to be searched unless you produce proper credentials. I do not believe you are dry agents."

"It doesn't matter who we are. We came for whisky, and we are going to get it," replied one of the bandits.

Watson called to his wife on the second floor. "Ella, call the police. These men are thieves."

Mrs. Watson obtained a revolver and returned to the first floor, but the bandits had already left the house. "I would have fired a shot at them if the door lock had not caught, but by the time I reached the front porch they were speeding down the street," she said.

Watson notified the Newport police and gave a description of the two men.

MANY KENTUCKY SOLDIERS HAVE NOT VICTORY MEDALS

Every Man Who Served in World War Is Entitled to Medals Now Being Distributed.

The following letter should interest ex-service men:

The War Department has given the Victory Medal Department, at Room 510 Postoffice Building, Louisville, Ky., the responsibility of distributing 85,000 Victory Medals to ex-service men of the World War, in the state of Kentucky. To date the department has distributed only about 15,000, and the War Department has requested that we secure the co-operation of the Kentucky press in announcing the issue of the medal, in order that the ex-service men may secure their medal as soon as possible. Therefore, we shall greatly appreciate any publicity you may give.

The medal is for service either in France or the United States. Those who engaged in battles or in the occupation of a defensive sector are eligible, attached to the medal, clasps bearing the name of the battles or defensive sector; those serving in a foreign country but not participating in any battles, a clasp with the name of the country, and those serving only in the United States, the Victory Medal without clasp. To secure the medal it is only necessary for the ex-service man to present his discharge or an extract prepared on form for that purpose, to the Victory Medal Officer, and sign an application. The medal will be mailed him from Philadelphia. In all cases the discharge or extract will be returned at once to the applicant.

Blank forms and information may be secured by writing the office, 510 P. O. Building, Louisville.

OUR POLICY:

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

NO TIME TO LOAF ON THE JOB.

The presence of famine in Europe, the Near East and in China as aftermath of the war has received our attention in concrete form of generous contributions in relief. It is true that we have become more or less calloused because of the repetitions of calls of distress following in the wake of the World War so closely on the wrecks during the war's prosecution. But now the less we have been properly sympathetic and have in large measure entertained and expressed real concern for the deplorable conditions in which so many of our fellow human beings are suffering and dying. Particularly has the fact that the innocence of childhood has been so largely victimized, impressed us deeply.

But there is another phase of the case that has its timely suggestion. We may wisely bring home to ourselves the lesson contained in famine abroad by letting it remind us of the possibility of famine at home. Now mind you, we say merely the possibility, not the probability. We live in a land of plenty in a time of abundance and feeding half the world and yet have enough and to spare. But it is a fact that we may as well keep in mind that a little shift of certain conditions over which we may have much, little or no control and we might find ourselves in a land of famine. The contingency is remote, but it is by no means outside the pale of eventualities. Already we have been reminded that much land may lie idle and production be substantially limited just because men prefer the town to the country.

There are other sources of production of like importance with the tilling of the soil and the breeding and raising of stock. The industries are quite essential to our comfortable living. Here too production has been slack. This also because of the willfulness of mankind. We do not expect a famine of things to eat, nor do we expect a dearth to the point of danger of things to wear or that otherwise conduce to life's comforts. But in the presence of what can happen and has happened abroad it might be playing safe if we did permit ourselves en masse to expect—at least to the extent of getting a bit concerned—possibility of calamity if we don't give honest attention to using well our opportunities and meeting faithfully our obligations.

FARMERS AND THE SCRUB MALE.

The campaign for purebred males which is now at its height throughout the United States is receiving the active cooperation of progressive horse breeders, herdsmen and poultry experts everywhere, and it is a favorable omen that many states have already legislated the scrub sires out of existence.

By some peculiar method of reasoning many farmers who would tax their resources to the limit in order to secure a pure bred bull, ram or stallion which travelled their way. One North Dakota farmer in writing to the Department of Agriculture characterizes this type of male as the greatest enemy the breeding industry has to combat. Murray Howe once said that the average farmer loved a fat horse. That quality was all that these mongrel brutes had to recommend them, and their passing will leave no regrets.

There is nothing more pleasing to the eye than some of these sires of the draft type, many of which weigh a ton or more. The Clydesdale, Shire, Percheron, Belgian and Suffolk Punch are all recognized breeds whose blood is kept pure, and whose family lines may be traced through stud books which are maintained as a matter of authentic record. They are all big types and might be termed fat when in show condition, but each tribe has a distinctive quality which makes for the improvement of the species.

The time is approaching when every owner of a stallion must submit a certificate of breeding with his application for a license. When that condition exists there will be fewer of those hammer headed, flat ribbed nondescripts which have been in the past classified as just plain horses.—New York Herald.

ANOTHER FEDERAL AID TO THE FARMER MOVE.

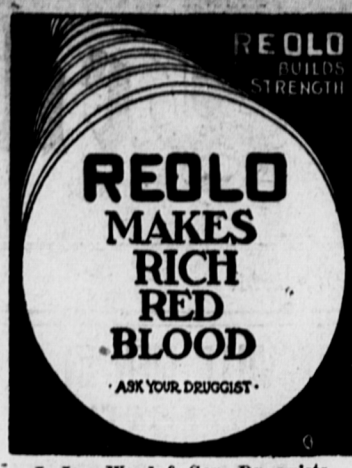

The government is again interfering in our personal affairs. This time it is as to our eating. The prescriptions are onions. Now why should we eat onions and make ourselves persona non grata at social functions, or put ourselves to sleep in the midst of the Sunday service? Is it a matter of health? There have at times been advanced theories that onions raw, or onions boiled, fried or stewed, furnish certain elements conducive to physical wholesomeness. There has ever been suspicion in this connection, however, that these theories had their origin in the diseased imagination, or the purposeful prevarication of those who have unfortunately cultivated, unconsciously or otherwise, an unnatural appetite for this most offensive member of the vegetable group.

Be that as it may, it cuts no figure in the present attempt at governmental curtailment of personal liberty. No claim is made that onions are either palatable or healthful, useful or ornamental. The movement is purely commercial. We are admonished to eat onions because there is a large surplus now and a larger surplus prophesied with the next crop. Forsooth if the farmers choose to cultivate onions the consumer must masticate them whether or not they please his palate, offend his olfactory, put the doctor out of business or the neighbors out of humor. These farmer folk are mighty fine in their place, but they are getting a bit previous and also mighty masterful.

FEW UNIDENTIFIED BODIES ARE FOUND ON BATTLEFIELDS.

Close Check Has Been Kept and Few Unidentified American Graves Are Found in France.

Major General H. L. Rogers, Quartermaster General of the Army, announced recently that the men of the Cemeterial Division who are searching every square foot of the battlefields in France have found 178 bodies of American soldier dead, of whom 132 are positively identified. There are forty-six bodies not capable of being identified but of these there are seven which still have possibilities of identification. Of all the bodies thus located, fifty were found in the vicinity of the cemetery at Remagne, and were reburied there in the beautiful plot which will be a permanent American memorial.

This materially reduced the list of missing, and as soon as possible the names of those bodies that were identified will be sent to the relatives of the soldier dead. Recently twenty-eight bodies were inspected by a medical officer on their arrival from overseas at Hoboken, N. J., in order to check up as to the care taken in preparing them for the last journey. In every case the dead were found to be treated with all possible professional skill and care. A United States Senator who came to view the remains of the son of one of his constituents also observed the condition of many other bodies and was profoundly impressed with the reverent care taken of all.

Massachusetts sent a special commission to France to view the activities of the Graves Registration Service, and an excerpt from its report has been made public by the Quartermaster Corps, as follows:

"Our inquiry and investigation appear to justify the claims of the department that every effort has been made to do the business part accurately, ly, and after that to bestow the honors due to the heroic dead. The Commission, standing with devoted American officers and civilians in charge of the work, and in the presence of a thousand receptacles of the dust that was the living wall against which the Hun argued in vain, expressed their admiration of the devoted work of the department, and their perfect satisfaction with it."

Louis J. Cohen, representative of the Jewish Welfare Board in France for the purpose of checking and photographing the graves of the Jewish soldier dead in the American Army, has written a letter in which he says: "I feel that the American public has every reason to be proud of the excellent care bestowed upon the resting place of their dead. Whether an isolated grave, occupying a part of a communal or military cemetery, or a national American cemetery, the white spotless grave markers stand out most prominently, symbolic with the flag that flies over them. It has also been my privilege to meet a great number of relatives of our dead, in the cemeteries visited by me at that time. Their expression on seeing the continuing care in which the cemetery is kept, must be gratifying to those entrusted with that care."

HOME GARDEN SAVINGS ARE $100 A YEAR.

New York. — The average American family can grow one-eighth of its food and save at least $100 a year by planting a home garden, according to O. S. Morgan, professor of agriculture at Columbia university, who has just completed a survey of agricultural conditions which led him to urge the resumption of war-garden work.

"Successful gardening depends particularly upon perseverance and versatility in knowledge," the professor said.

The demand for help in home gardening, particularly strong this year, has led the Columbia department of extension teaching to arrange to present eight bi-weekly lectures, from March 1 to March 29, in vegetable and fruit raising well in advance of the planting season, by Hugh Findlay, lecturer in horticulture at Columbia. Stress was laid on crops and methods with which success in the same season as planting is most probable.

"Within the metropolitan district are many people interested in the farm outlook who wish to try farming on a small scale and this course is planned for them.

"Hard times are threatening the farmer now. He is not buying an extra truck, a new silo, a 'bargain' $10,000 sire to head his herd these difficult times. He is in the large company of city and factory people who are suffering affliction in the pocketbook region. The city folk, however, are not like the farmer, in position to cut production and yet live comfortably. Hence many war-gardens will be resuscitated."

ALLEGED SLAVE DRIVER GOES ON TRIAL.

Covington, Ga., April 5. — John S. Williams, Jasper county farmer, charged in the confession of his negro farm boss, Clyde Manning, with having caused the murder of 11 negro farm laborers, to prevent evidence against him for alleged peonage, faced trial in Circuit Court here today on a charge of murder of one of the negroes. An augmented force of 16 deputies had been mobilized to preserve order in the court-room and arrangements were made for a capacity crowd. More than a score of witnesses are understood to have been summoned by the state, by whom it expects to support Manning's story of the killings.

Before Naming Your Executor

Think carefully of the disadvantages of naming an individual to act in that capacity. He is subject to every human misfortune, and your interests in his charge are imperiled accordingly. He may be inexperienced; he may prove incompetent or dishonest; he may be burdened with other duties; he may be absent when his presence is most needed; he may meet with an accident, become ill or mentally unbalanced; he will surely die, possibly soon.

This bank is better fitted to act as your executor than any individual. It performs its duties with intelligence, economy and fidelity because it is absolutely unbiased by any personal considerations and does its work with the combined training, ability and honesty of a number of men of proven character and successful business experience, and is surrounded by the strongest legal safeguards. We will gladly discuss with you the preparation of your will, no matter what the size of your estate.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — One hundred thousand people gather in learning and American ideas at New York City Settlement houses. Quite a fair sized city in themselves! In "The Neighborhood House Review of 1921," presented the other day by the settlement house association, there were twenty nationalities among the 200 members of the cast, chosen from that 100,000. It was not quite as frivolous a "review" as we are accustomed to see atop the New York roosts, but it was without a doubt as truly "American."

Sam Shing, seventy years old, is the only Chinese left in Chinatown who wears a queue. A delegation called on him the other day—a group of modern Chinese who have been wearing their hair short ever since the Chinese Republic was proclaimed a few years ago—in an effort to persuade him to become as queueless as they. They found him, as usual, sitting in the doorway of his drug store in Doyers street, where he sells Chinese remedies of snappers' blood, frogs' tongues, ginseng powders and dried serpents' eggs, and they tried to lure him to the busy barber-shop across the way. But he only waved his pipestem at them and turned away. As a contract to Sam Shing and his drugstore, the barbershop across the street not only is kept busy giving American hair-cuts, but little Chinese manicurists there take care of the Chinese dandies' finger-tips.

Convinced of the strong influence of "Mine own people," the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association has chosen true, thoroughbred American Indian girls to lead the organization's work among the people of that race. The success of the idea has already been proven by Miss Ella Deloria, daughter of a Sioux chief, of Standing Rock, South Dakota, who has left for the Pacific Coast to give a series of talks on recreational and other branches of Y. W. work. Miss Deloria, who was graduated from Columbia University in 1915, has been physical director in All Saints' school, at Sioux Falls, S. Dak., since her graduation. It may seem a bit like carrying coals to Newcastle for what was primarily a city organization to go out and give physical training to Indian girls, but it has worked splendidly. Miss Deloria assisted in putting on a pageant at an Indian gathering last year, which she wrote and directed, telling the history of her tribe, and she is planning to do more work of that kind. Another Indian girl recently added to the Y. W. forces is Susie Meek, who had been trained by the Friends, but whom they could not employ as a worker because their rules insist upon married workers and Susie is as yet unmarried. She explained frankly that after she was married she might prefer to stay at home and take care of her husband.

and home and babies and so she'd better go where they could use her now.

The Hon. Sylvia Gough is the latest member of the English titled circle to make her debut on the professional stage. She has chosen for her medium the chorus of "The Right Girls," a new Musical comedy just opened here. The Hon. Sylvia is the wife of Captain Wilfred Gough, son of Sir Hugh Sutlej-Gough, and she is said to have been induced to become a climber after theatrical laurels through the success of her friend, Lady Diana Manners, in the cinema field.

"Have you any children?" Harry Sherman, twelve years old, asked a policeman who had just arrested him on a charge of stealing from a 5 and 10 cents store. When the policeman said, "Yes," Harry handed him two $20 bills and said, with a generous gesture, "Here, buy them some presents." Upon being asked the source of his wealth, he explained it was craps. So now he has two charges instead of one to answer before the Children's Court.

In spite of the cables and news reports it begins to seem as though the Great War were actually over. Foreign mail steamboat service has just been re-established in New York bay and harbor after four years of discontinuance. The service transports mail from incoming transatlantic and coastwise mail steamers from Quarantine to the North River pier, to expedite delivery. It was abolished April 21, 1917, "for the time of the war."

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN.

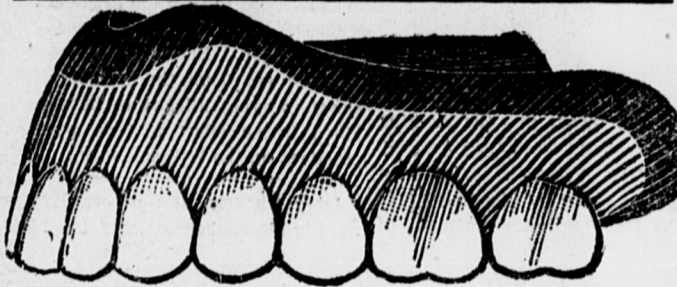

A prominent physician says that by far the largest number of women's ailments are not surgical ones, that is they are not caused by serious displacements, or growths. Symptoms similar in character are often brought about by much simpler conditions. We therefore urge every woman who suffers from backache, headaches, bearing down pains, side ache, irregularities, nervous despondency, or weakness to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It acts as a natural restorative and often prevents more serious troubles.

THE CHILD AUTHOR.

Novelist Robert W. Chambers said at a dinner in New York: "The advent of the child author is causing, I understand, certain innovations in the Authors' Club. Thus a playroom is to be fitted up for child clubmen with all kinds of costly toys on the fourth floor; they are going to build a baby carriage garage off the basement; and highchairs for child authors will be a prominent feature of the restaurant. "The minimum entrance age for the Society of Arts and Letters," Mr. Chamberlain added, "is about 70 years or thereabouts. I am reliably informed that at the society's next meeting a strenuous effort will be made to reduce it to 18 months."

RIVER TRAFFIC SHOULD CARRY FREIGHT OF VALLEYS

Co-Operation Between Waterways and U. S. Merchant Marine Needed Says Association Head.

"Intelligent co-operation between inland waterways and the United States Merchant Marine will assure the transportation of American products in American bottoms and enable our flag to float over every ocean," is the prediction of John M. Parker, Governor of Louisiana and honorary president of the Mississippi Valley Association in a pre-convention statement issued to Valley business and agricultural interests calling their attention to the importance of the third annual gathering of his organization, to be held at New Orleans, May 2, 3, and 4.

"There is no more important question today before the American people than the restoration of water traffic," continue Governor Parker's statement. "Not only have the railroads been super-congested, perishable freight delayed, but rates have been increased to such a proportion as to upset business and cause the farmer, who is the real producer, more unrest and dissatisfaction than ever in our history."

"The national government has spent billions for railroads but have overlooked those natural God-given highways, represented by our rivers, which offer the cheapest transportation known to mankind. "The meeting of the Mississippi Valley Association in New Orleans, May 2, 3 and 4, should be attended by the thinking men from every one of the twenty-seven states of the Valley, looking to the development of our waterways and Gulf Ports, and the convention should in unmistakable terms demand for national welfare and preservation of our agricultural interests, that the Government should by prompt action and low rates of freight, enable our farmers and manufacturers to transport their products to the markets of the world. Intelligent co-operation between inland waterways and the United States Merchant Marine will assure the transportation of American products in American bottoms and enable our flag to float over every ocean."

"Billions have been spent on railways and the time has come when public necessity requires millions to be spent on waterways." Harry H. Merrick, of Chicago, President of the Mississippi Valley Association, in commenting on the program adopted, announces that the New Orleans convention will take steps to protect the Valley's interests, and to obtain at the earliest practicable time the completion of the terminals required; the completion of navigable waterway projects on the Ohio River to Pittsburgh; on the upper Mississippi River to Minneapolis; on the Missouri River to Kansas City, and on other important tributaries; and the extension of the barge line service on these waterways.

An open conference is to be held during the convention for the discussion by delegates representing every community in the Mississippi Valley, interested in the development of waterways. From this discussion Merrick expects that a well rounded program of general waterway development of these navigable rivers, with the idea in mind, of providing for rail time to come, the maintenance and upkeep of the Valley rivers, after the channels of these rivers are deepened sufficiently to make water transportation practical.

HO WTO MAKE FLATS.

Soap Boxes are the most convenient material for making flats for seeds and the most readily obtainable from the grocer. Saw the boxes into two and one-half inch sections and nail bottom on them and the flat is ready to be filled with earth for planting seeds in the house, the greenhouse or even in the hot bed, if it is deemed convenient to have the plants in shape to be moved quickly.

It is a good plant to store the flats after they have been used so that they will be handy and there won't have to be any time lost next year when they are needed.

Kale as a fresh green vegetable for winter use is slowly but surely making its way into favor. It is the only green that may be picked from the garden with freezing weather and snow on the ground. Frost gives it its

IS THIS YOUR EXPERIENCE?

Many Maysville People Are Afflicted With Annoying Kidney Ills.

Are you bothered with too frequent action of the kidneys? Are the secretions highly colored—do they contain sediment—burn and scald in voiding? These are all signs of kidney sickness and should not be neglected. Maysville people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches and your kidneys are weak you will find no better recommended remedy.

George H. King proprietor grocery store, 615 East Second street, Maysville says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for several years and have been greatly benefitted by them. At times my kidneys get out of order and the secretions pass irregularly. I suffered with a severe aching through the small of my back. Whenever I have one of these attacks I use a box or so of Doan's Kidney Pills and they never fail to cure the complaint in a short time." (Statement given November 15, 1916.)

On November 22, 1920, Mr. King added: "The cure I spoke about in my former statement has proven absolutely permanent. I haven't had the slightest sign of kidney trouble since giving my testimony in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills in 1916." Price 50 cents at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. King had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

most delicate flavor. The kale is a member of the cabbage tribe and tastes much like mild cabbage or cauliflower when cooked. The leaves are finely cut and curly and some varieties are grown as ornamental foliage plants. If it is not relished for the table it is particularly valuable as green food for chickens, as it may be picked at any time and thrown to them. One of the chief faults to be found with kale is that plant lice are fond of it, but a few applications of some nicotine insecticide puts them to flight. Before cooking, soaking in strong salt water speedily dislodges any lice. The same method should be employed with Brussels sprouts which are also favorites of the aphids.

Spinach and lettuce should be in the ground now and the lettuce getting pretty nearly ready for transplanting. In the more southern districts these crops should be well above ground by this time.

FIFTY-CENT WHISKY TAX CASE TO BE DECIDED BEFORE SUMMER.

Louisville, Ky., April 5.—The Vance tax of 50 cents a gallon on whisky probably will be passed upon by the Court of Appeals before summer, according to authorities here. Judge R. L. Stout in the Franklin circuit court held the act unconstitutional in the case of E. H. Taylor, Jr., Sons & Company, Frankfort distillers, against State auditor John J. Craig, Attorney General Charles I. Dawson will appeal the move to have it advanced. Judge Stout followed the decision of the United States Supreme Court in a similar case from Kentucky.

BARDSTOWN PEOPLE ATTEND OLD KENTUCKY HOME BENEFIT.

Louisville, Ky., April 6. — Nearly 300 residents of Bardstown, people who live near and know intimately, "Federal Hill" where Stephen Foster wrote "My Old Kentucky Home" Tuesday attended the matinee performance of "Lightnin'" marking the opening of the campaign to purchase the old Rowan homestead and convert it into a shrine for Kentuckians, and a monument to the author of the song. Before the curtain went up, Governor Edwin P. Morrow, made a brief address, in which he paid tribute to the song and its composer and expressed appreciation to John Golden, who donated the house and services of the company, and to the cast. The proceeds from the performance were added to the fund for purchase and beautifying of "Federal Hill."

PLAN TO COMBINE VETERANS' RELIEF BOARDS APPROVED

New Executive Officer, Directly Responsible to President, May Be Appointed, Special Commission Meets.

Washington, April 6. — Progress in solving the government's problem of caring for former service men, whether sick or disabled, or physically fit but having financial claims to be adjusted, was made here Tuesday at the first meeting of President Harding's special commission, headed by Charles G. Dawes, of Chicago, and appointed to inquire into the situation.

It was unanimously agreed that the administration machinery now operating separately in the several fields of soldiers' relief should be consolidated under one central authority, probably a new executive officer who would be responsible directly to the President.

Heads of all the bureaus having to do with treatment of the war veterans were present and in reply to questions from Chairman Dawes and Colonel F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the American Legion, said they favored the general idea of a consolidated service bureau. This endorsement, Chairman Dawes said, promised quick solution of the problem as it related to the general administration of aid for men who are alleged to have suffered under the system of divided governmental responsibility.

Among those who expressed general endorsement of the plan for centralization were Suren General Cummings, of the Public Health Service, who said he would be willing to bring his service under the plan, so far as its work with soldiers is connected; R. H. Hallett, acting director of the War Risk Bureau, and Uel Lambkin, director of the rehabilitation division of the Vocational Education Board.

GIRL SLAIN AFTER REFUSING CAR RIDE

Mother Says Married Woer Wanted Her to Take Auto Ride Near Midnight and Was Refused.

Columbus, Ind., April 6. — J. Webber Smith, man about town, son of a wealthy widow of a traction official, shot and killed Miss Irma Hancher because she refused to go on an automobile ride with him at 11 o'clock at night, according to the testimony of the girl's mother, Mrs. Rebecca Hancher, at the murder trial yesterday.

Smith, who insists that the shooting was an accident, showed no emotion as the girl's mother described the tragedy and the events leading up to it at the Hancher home the night of January 13.

Smith's mother, Mrs. Margaret Smith, joined him in the courtroom for the first time this afternoon. She made her first visit to him since the shooting at the county jail last Saturday. His wife and children have not been in the courtroom, although his wife has visited him frequently at the jail.
